A Celebration of Life

A Resolution in Loving Memory of

Cleo Jane Rogers Halebian

Today, we remember the times we spent with a loved one who is no longer with us.

She is not here but will always be remembered with a smile.

Cleo Jane Rogers Halebian gave back to the community whenever she could whether it was through her work as a psychologist at the Dallas Easter Seals Society, serving as a Democratic Party Precinct Chair or through her appointment to the Texas State Board of Psychologists by Governor Ann Richards.

A "true" native of Dallas, she was born at Baylor Hospital on December 11, 1925, went to high school at Woodrow Wilson and received her bachelor's degree from Southern Methodist University. After marrying Hratch Setrak Halebian in 1948 and raising her two children, Paul Hratch and Jane Marie, she returned to SMU to earn her Master of Science degree in psychology.

Jane loved to experience the world and traveled extensively - Cuba, China, Lebanon, France, Germany - and stateside to the international cities of New Orleans and New York.

On the home front, many of us have known Jane by working on projects together. She often had many good ideas to add to any conversation. When she was ready to talk she would cock her head to the side and begin in a very calm, organized manner to explain why something should be done in a different way. We learned to listen well because invariably Jane would offer an option that was indeed better.

She will be greatly missed by the Dallas community as a whole. And to those close to her, we wish you peace, comfort and the courage to face the days ahead. Please know that you are in our thoughts.

Respectfully submitted on the 14th day of July, 2017.
