ACKNOWLEDGMENT

While Dallas County may provide you with general information about the county permitting process, which may include references to required applications, regulations, and other materials, Dallas County cannot give you advice about how you should develop your land nor indicate whether any development proposal will be granted the necessary permits.

You may wish to seek further advice from an appropriately qualified and experienced professional, such as a consultant or planner specializing in planning or development regulations. Comments are only provided by professional staff attending the meeting. At no time should comments be taken as a guarantee of approval of your proposal.
